Normandy Harbor Insurance Hires J. Ellen Huff as Senior Field Underwriter

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.—Normandy Harbor, an innovative and growing workers' compensation insurance carrier that offers customized plans to select Florida businesses, has hired J. Ellen Huff as a senior field underwriter.

Huff comes to Normandy Harbor from the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Florida affiliate OptaComp, where she held a similar position. She also was a field underwriter at AmCOMP, now EMPLOYERS.

"Ellen has been 'on the ground' in Florida's workers compensation market for 15 years," says Normandy Harbor President Therese A. "Terri" Stevens. "Her expertise in analyzing a variety of Florida risks makes her a perfect fit for our company. At Normandy Harbor, we focus on small and mid-size businesses, companies that benefit greatly from strong underwriting guidelines and expert risk evaluations."

"I am delighted to be joining the Normandy Harbor team," Huff says. "With their corporate philosophy of working one-on-one with policyholders and their commitment to the independent agency system, they are true leaders in Florida's workers' compensation arena. I already know many of the agents I will be working with, and look forward to partnering with them in providing superior workers' compensation coverage to their clients."
